CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

A costume party with a circus theme provided a delightful sixth birthday celebration for Miss Linda Ball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ball, Sunday afternoon at her home on Pecan Grove Lane, Waveland.

Linda greeted her appropriately attired guests wearing a native Hawaiian costume. The party, originally planned for outdoors, was held on the spacious porch of the home due to the inclement weather. Gaily decorated with crepe paper streamers and balloons of varied colors, the porch provided an ideal setting for the games that were played during the afternoon. Prizes were won by Ruth and Joanne Frey, Dale Russell and Sallie Porter.

The refreshment table, shaped in the form of a large U, was covered in blue and yellow. A large birthday cake in blue and yellow centered the base of the U. Individual birthday cakes topped with a lighted single candle were served along with ice cream and candies.

Thirty-five of Linda's friends and classmates attended the party.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Miss Holly Reuhl, daughter of Mrs. Laura C. Reuhl, celebrated her ninth birthday with a party Friday afternoon at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Chadwick, Jordan River.

Hiding Tony, Holly's horse, was the main event with games rounding out an afternoon of fun for the guests.

Pink and white was chosen as the color motif for the party. The refreshment table was covered with a pink and white birthday cloth and centered with a beautiful pink, white and green cake topped with the traditional tangles. Ice cream and candies completed the menu. The guests were presented with tiny pink baskets filled with candies as favors.

E. C. WESTON
HANCOCK WINNER
IN SEARS CONTEST

E. C. Weston of Kila has been named winner from Hancock County in the 5-acre forest improvement contest sponsored jointly by the Sears Roebuck Foundation and Mississippi Forestry Association with guidance furnished by members of the State Agricultural Coordinating Council.

During the contest year contestants performed forest practices to increase both quality and quantity of timber grown on a 5-acre plot of their selection.

These practices included planting seedlings, plowing fire breaks, protection from over-grazing, and removal of inferior trees to boost growth in the better ones.

Bay St. Louis school children in the third through fifth grades will join nearly 3,000,000 Junior Fire Marshals throughout the country next week in a nationwide fire prevention and safety education program sponsored by the Hartford Fire Insurance Company.

Participation in the program was announced today by Mrs. Margaret Shadoin of the Hancock Ins. Agency, local Hartford Fire representative; School Superintendent S. J. Ingram, and Fire Chief Frank Quintini.

"This new, year-round Junior Fire Marshal program is an expanded version of the popular public service campaign which the Hartford Fire has sponsored through its 15,000 agents since 1947," Mrs. Shadoin said.

"Ever increasing interest by parents, teachers and fire officials prompted expansion of the program which now is on a year-round basis for the first time in nine years," he added.

Scheduled to open throughout the country in conjunction with National Fire Prevention Week, October 7-13, the new program gets under way locally on Oct. 8. At that time, Mrs. Shadoin said, a new 12-page Junior Fire Marshal Magazine will be distributed to boys and girls in participating schools.

The Magazine, first of four to be published throughout the year, contains stories, pictures, and suggested Fire Prevention activities and games for children. The Magazine's feature is a home inspection report for boys and girls to use in locating and eliminating fire hazards in their homes.

Completed home reports, signed by parents, are returned to teachers. Mrs. Shadoin said schools with satisfactory records of participation will receive School Achievement Banners, Honor Roll Posters, and

SENIOR SCOUTS OF BAY TO ATTEND "DIXIE" GIRL SCOUT MEET

Two Girl Scouts from Bay St. Louis Senior Scout Troop No. 1, under the leadership of Mrs. Donald Chamberlain, have been elected to attend the Dixie Regional Conference in Biloxi on October 29-31. The girls are Miss Celeste Chevis, vice president of the troop, and Miss Barbara Allen, a 1956 Senior Round-up selectee.

Together with senior scouts elected by councils throughout

Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama, Arkansas and Louisiana, these girls will make their headquarters in the Fiesta Room of the Duena Vista Hotel. They will attend all sessions and will be accepted on the same basis as adults (the only exception being they cannot vote).

More than 600 adults are expected to attend the conference, according to Mrs. C. C. McDonald, president of the Live Oak Council, and they represent a Girl Scout membership of more than 100,000.

Purpose of the meeting is to share ideas and to gain practical knowledge of scouting to meet the demands of a rapidly growing organization. The focus of the meeting is on how Girl Scout activities, based on the ethical code, can be a vital factor in the development

THE DIEDARDS

The $50,000 City Street improvement Bond Issue was in the courts again last week. This time it was an appeal to the Circuit Court by three recently defeated candidates for office. John A. Egloff, Nolan A. Kingston and Edward Fayard. These three petitioners, together with some others, have taken the case to the Chancery Court twice and were twice defeated.

This last week they appealed to the Circuit Court, and for the third time they have been defeated in their efforts to stop the hard-surfacing of 22 city streets. Since losing, they have appealed to the State Supreme Court and there is where it will lie for the next 90 days.

Eventually the bonds will be issued when all the court delays are over, but in the meantime the court actions are costing the taxpayers money and delaying the hard-surfacing of the streets.

Diedards never seem to know when they are licked, whether it be at the polls or in the courts. In the meantime they impede progress and are usually the ones growling loudly because the streets are rough—we mean to say their neighbor's streets, not their own, for they already have pavement.

Well, the old saying is, "some people thrive on thrift," but there are a few others "who just die on the limb."

800 HOMES TO BURN IN NEXT 24 HOURS

During the next twenty-four hours fire will damage or destroy at least 800 homes in the United States. It will take an untold number of lives, many of them horribly, tragically. Of those who "live to tell," some will be painfully burned, scarred or maimed for life.

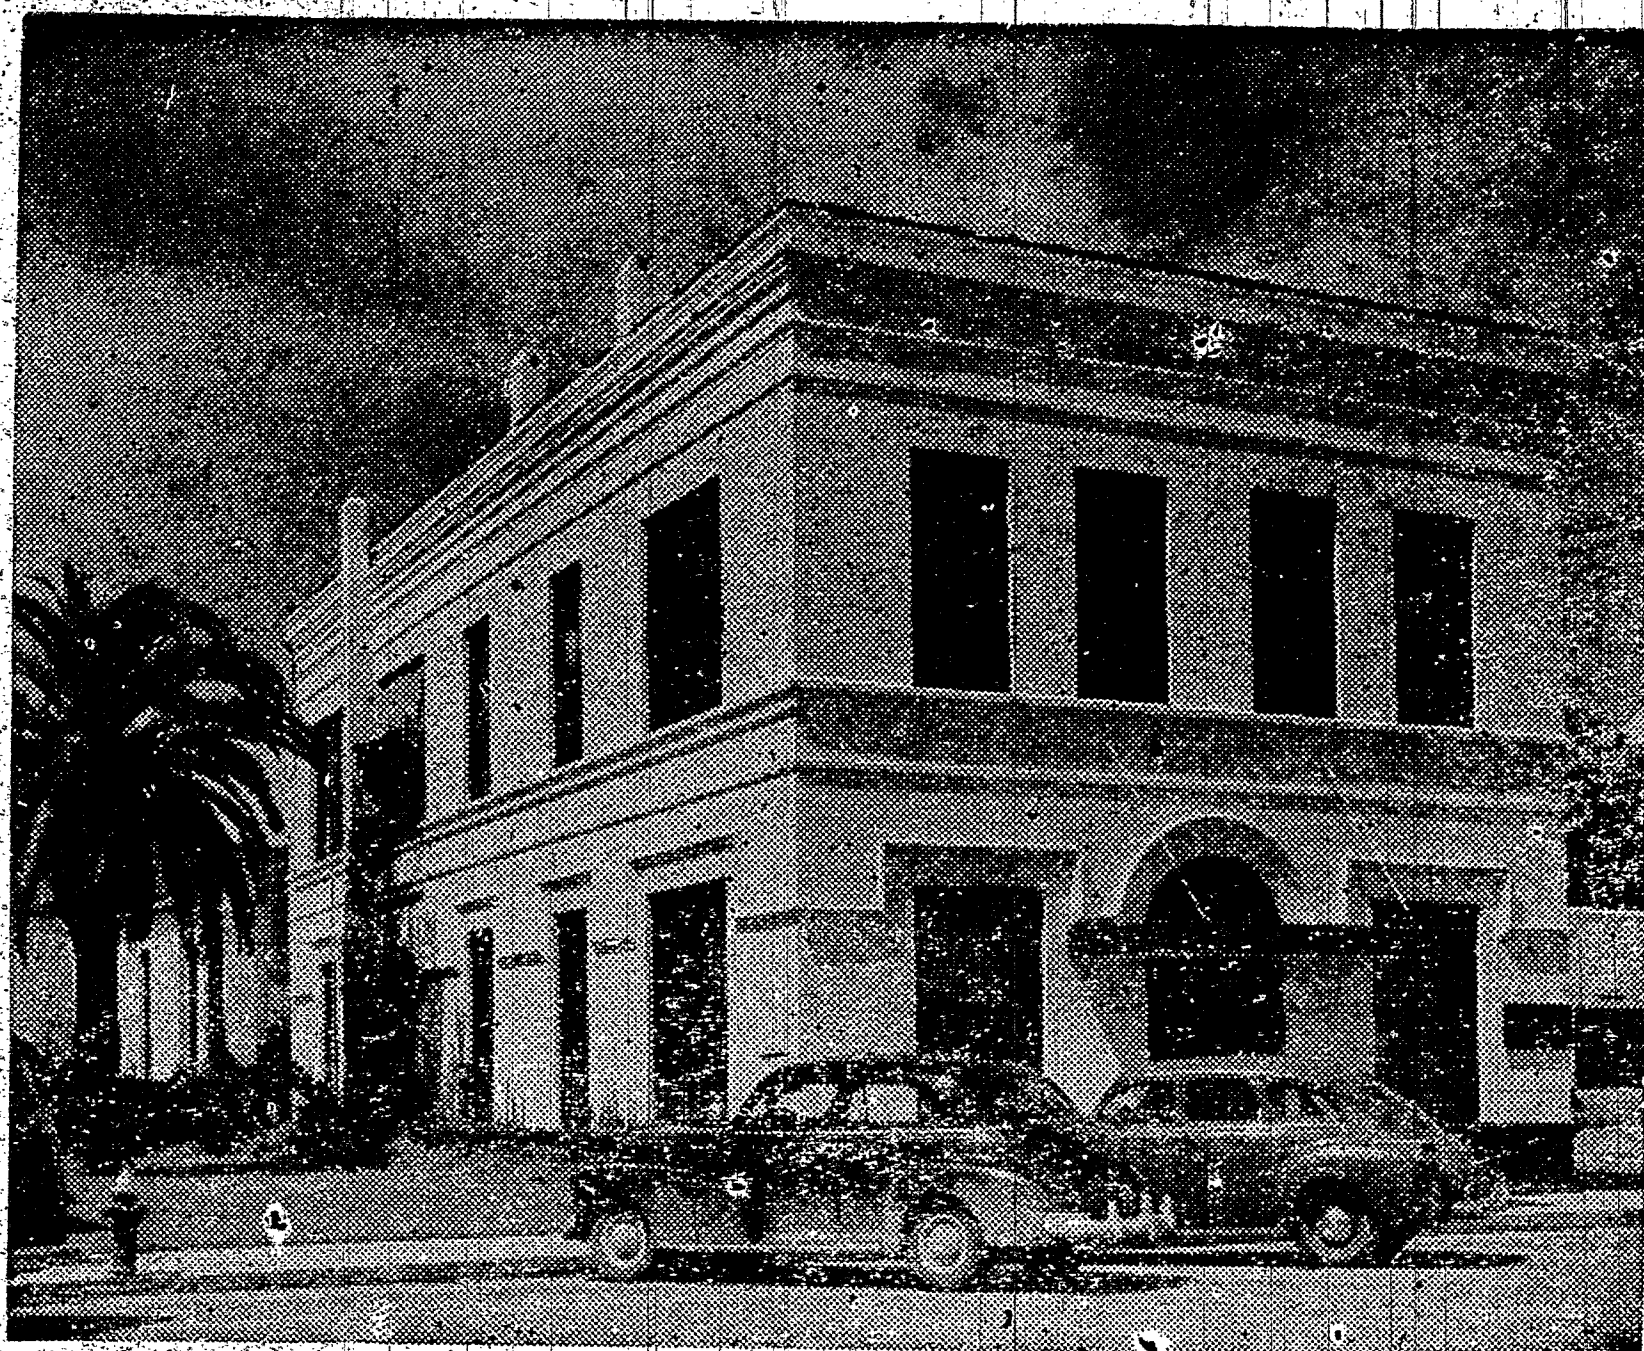

A year from today, unless the average changes, the total will be 300,000 dwellings damaged, 11,000 persons dead. Of these 11,000 dead, about 1,000, possibly more, will be children between the ages of five and fourteen.

By Presidential proclamation, this week is traditionally observed throughout the nation as Fire Prevention Week. It is a good time for us to stop and take stock of what is being done in our own community to help reduce the needless waste of life and property due to fire.

One activity which deserves particular attention is the Junior Fire Marshal Program sponsored as a national public service by the Hartford Fire Insurance Company through its agents from coast to coast. Here in Bay St. Louis this year-round fire prevention and safety program is being sponsored by Mrs. Margaret Shadoin of the Hancock Insurance Agency, with the active cooperation of Fire Chief Frank Quintini and School Superintendent S. J. Ingram.

Since its beginning nine years ago, the Junior Fire Marshal program has been an outstanding success. This year an estimated 3,000,000 boys and girls mostly in the third, fourth and fifth grades, will be enrolled through their schools. These children will learn all about fire, how to live with it and how to protect themselves and others from its dangers. They will learn, too, the fascinating history of fire and the great contribution it has made to the advance of civilization.

To qualify as Junior Fire Marshals, these youngsters must check their own homes for fire hazards and bring these potential danger spots to parental attention. Their reward is membership in the national Junior Fire Marshal organization. Perhaps it's just the idea of winning a fire-red helmet, a badge, or a gold medal that inspires them. But whatever the motivation, the training they receive today will help to make them the good citizens of tomorrow. It will also help to make our community a safer place in which to live.

The Good Life

"You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift. You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening strong. You cannot help the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer. You cannot further the brotherhood of man by encouraging class hatred. You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich. You cannot establish sound security on borrowed money. You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than you earn. You cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initiative and independence. You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves."

These words from Abraham Lincoln are sound economic gospel, even in our own time, for in the free economy of a people thrift and production are essential.

Certainly under our American Economic System of free enterprise it is the savers and producers, working together, who bring prosperity. They save to create the capital to buy the machines that provide employment.

There have been many schemes hatched to make easy money and many short-cuts promoted to achieve prosperity, but no working substitutes have been found for thrift and industry as a way to build one's fortunes.

Abraham Lincoln came up the hard way. He learned from bitter experience, as have so many others, that character, courage, initiative, independence and understanding are the stuff out of which we create social security, form a superior society and lay the financial foundation for the good life.

"You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift," said Honest Abe. "you cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong."

COSTS MORE TO PRODUCE TODAY

Most everything you buy now, lays costs more to produce... That's because wages are higher and materials cost more... Today's dollars just don't buy what they used to!

It's no different with the Telephone Company... Like most other businesses it has felt the full effect of inflation and rising costs... Since the last time the Public Service Commission set lawful rates for the Company in 1949 — two items of expense alone (six wage rate increases and an income tax increase) have added over $4 million a year to our operating costs... That plus other cost increases associated with our additional investment in the State adds up to an increase of over $7½ million a year.

Only $3½ million of this had been offset by additional revenue from rate increases prior to our recent application to the Public Service Commission. That's why we asked the Commission to make a thorough study of our revenue needs and set new rates that will be fair to telephone users and to the Company.
